Versie: 23 mei 2018

What are cookies?

Small information files that are stored on your computer when you visit the website.

How do we use cookies?

Cookies make it possible for a website to work properly and to gain insight into the visiting behavior on the website. With this information the web services and your user experience of a website can be improved. Cookies do not jeopardize the security of your computer.

What kind of cookies do we use?

Cookies come as session cookies or persistent cookies. Session cookies are removed from your computer as soon as you close the web browser. Persistent cookies remain stored on your computer until they are deleted or reach their expiration date.

We use the following cookies

Functional cookies

Functional cookies are necessary for the proper functioning of the website or ensure that the desired information is shown to you quickly and correctly every time you visit our website. Handy, because then you do not have to enter your data again and again, indicate preferences or adjust your settings. Functional cookies are used for:

- Securing the connection with the website
- Facilitating live chats
- Managing all other cookies: a tag management cookie

Non-functional cookies

The non-functional cookies serve to inform us about the number of visitors to the website and the way in which these visitors use the website. We can use this information to further improve the website. We also use these cookies to show you suitable advertisements on other sites or to make you targeted offers. These files automatically disappear as soon as you close your internet browser or stay on your computer for up to 12 months after your last visit.

Analytical cookies are used:

- to make the website more powerful by reducing the loading time of the pages you visit. These data are collected anonymously
- to improve the user experience

Advertising cookies are used to:

- send information to other websites on the basis of which they can adjust their advertising.

- Social Media Cookies (Facebook, Google+, Twitter, Pinterest) are used to:
- Give you the opportunity to share and like pieces of information

Your permission to us to use cookies and how to block them

By using our website on a computer or mobile device, you agree to our Privacy and Cookie policy and consent to the use of our cookies.

You can always delete cookies from your computer yourself. Look under 'Internet Options' in your browser (the Help function in your browser can help you with this). You can read more about cookies and how to delete and check them on www.aboutcookies.org.

If you choose to delete cookies, the website may no longer function optimally and you will not be able to use some services.

Update cookie policy

This cookie policy can be adjusted at all times to make changes and subsequent consequences for obtaining and managing data known. If changes are made to this document, you can see the date at the top of the document when it last happened. We reserve the right to make changes to the way we handle data and to adjust the terms and conditions as described in the cookie and privacy policy and to apply those adjustments to all your data. When you visit our website, you agree to the applicable terms and conditions of the cookie and privacy policy.
